you'll find it doesn't make much sense compare those numbers to those of other transplant centers.

many persons are unable to function at the levels required to start or maintain a business because of simple health problems and the medications needed to treat them.